

LOCAL MEN WELL SATISFIED

With Purchases in Sunny South
And Are Optimistic
About Future.

Messrs. Henry R. Bright, R. C. Lloyd and M. O. Cockrell are delighted with their holdings near Van Dorn, Ala. Mr. Cockrell recently purchased the interest of Mr. Lloyd in the farm of Bright & Lloyd and now Mr. Lloyd, after selling his livery stable property here last week, has returned there, with the intention of purchasing a bigger tract in the same neighborhood. They claim an investment there yields a much greater return on the amount invested than any where they have ever been. Labor is clean and plentiful; fine weather is abundant, artesian wells, put down at a cost of about $100 each, being numerous and bermuda grass and burr clover furnishes a combination for twelve months pasture, making the country especially adaptable for the raising of hogs, mules, horses and cattle. Alfalfa hay has had a ready market at $22.00 a ton, F. O. B. cars and as the alfalfa crop was cut five times last year on the farm of Bright & Lloyd, it can be easily seen what a profitable proposition that is.

While there recently, Mr. Cockrell visited many beautiful farms owned by Kentuckians, including that of Mr. Warren Bacon, of Paris, Ky., who everybody will remember as the owner of Laconda and Peter Billiken. Mr. Bright Cockrell and family have moved there to make their future home and the Messrs. Cockrell, Mr. Bright and Mr. Lloyd are all loud in their praise of the sunny south and believe this part of Alabama to be the equal of any country in the world.

AGED LADY DIES OF PNEUMONIA.

Miss Mary Carrington, after a week's illness of pneumonia, died about 1 o'clock Saturday at her home on North Queen st. Miss Carrington was one of the best loved women in this county, where she had lived and spent all of her long life of seventy-two years. She was a devoted member of the Christian church and was a true type of the consecrated Christian woman, working daily to accomplish good everywhere and among all classes. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Taylor Carrington, of this city.

SELLS FINE FARM.

Mr. R. Bruce Young has sold his farm to Messrs. N. B. and Prewitt Young for $40,000. The farm which was not surveyed to the purchasers contains about 183 acres, making the price $218.57 per acre and possibly the highest price ever paid for land in Montgomery county. The farm lies on the Maysville pike about 1 1/2 miles from Mt. Sterling and joins other lands of Mr. Prewitt Young. It is considered one of the finest farms in the county.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Prominent Young Society Couple
Wed Early Monday Morning.

Miss Lodema Wood and Mr. Jack W. Burbridge were united in marriage early Monday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood, on Clay street by Rev. T. W. Watts, of the Methodist church. Only the relatives and a few friends witnessed the ceremony. The marriage was the culmination of a happy courtship that has extended several years.

Miss Wood was one of the most popular girls ever reared in our city and by her gracious manner and charming hospitality has endeared herself to a large circle of friends. She is one of the most accomplished musicians in this section of the State and her services have already been in great demand. She has been organist at the Methodist church for several years and has made quite an enviable reputation as a teacher both of voice and piano.

Mr. Burbridge, who is a member of the Walsh Co., one of the leading clothing concerns of our city, is a young man of splendid business qualifications, possessing the happy faculty of making and retaining the friendship of all with whom he comes in contact. Everybody knows and admires Jack Burbridge.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for a short bridal trip, the destination of which they would not divulge. Upon their return they will reside with the bride's parents. That only the good things of life will be their portion is the sincere wish of countless friends with whom the Advocate joins in extending felicitations.

BUYS STAR BAKERY.

Mr. R. F. Moore on Saturday bought at public auction the Star Bakery and will operate same. Messrs. Dowd & Jones sold same on account of other business interests that would not permit them to give the bakery all the time it required.

Mr. Moore is a popular gentleman and will no doubt make a success of his new venture.

M'CORMICK MAKES RECORD

By Reducing County's Indebtedness More Than $30,000
During Term.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Montgomery Fiscal Court yesterday County Attorney E. W. Senff, in open court burned seven $1,000.00 R. R. bonds with coupons attached. There has also been paid an additional bond, which has not yet been returned from New York. He called the court's special attention to the fact that in spite of the bad health and his terrible injury received in a railroad accident, Judge McCormick had looked after the financial affairs of the county with marked ability and had made for himself a record of which he should be proud; that when he went into office the county owed approximately $95,000.00, practically all of its interest-bearing; that in addition to paying the current expenses, which, due to free turnpikes, have been enormous, he had paid off some $30,000.00 of interest-bearing indebtedness; that most of this sum was applied on the R. R. bonds which draw five per cent, Judge McCormick having reduced that item of indebtedness from $55,000.00 to $32,000.00. The County Attorney also expressed the belief that the new administration, headed by Judge Chenault, because of the great reduction in interest, ought, with proper management, do even better and urged that rigid economy be observed by all members of the court, especially in the matter of pauper allowances, which ought to be reduced one half or more.

The usual claim list was allowed and routine business transacted.

WILL NOT LOCATE IN WINCHESTER.

Mr. R. P. Walsh who purchased the clothing business of J. H. Keyes at Winchester several weeks ago, and who was to take possession February 1st, will not go to Winchester as Mr. Keyes has persuaded him to sell the business back to him.

We are glad Mr. Walsh, who is a member of the City Council, and one of the most enterprising business men in the city has decided to still make Mt. Sterling his home.

A Winchester paper reported that Mr. Walsh would engage in the clothing business here again but Mr. Walsh advises that this is a mistake as he has not yet decided just what he will do.

Church, West Library, Sharpshurg Public School, M. E. Church, Wilmore, and many other large buildings.

Montgomery County Rural School Teachers' Institute.

The State Department of Education at Frankfort has advised the Board of Education of Montgomery County to conduct an eight weeks' Institute, beginning February 2nd, 1914; and in conformity to the above the County Board of Education at their meeting January 3rd, 1914, passed a ruling that all persons who expect to teach in Montgomery county in 1914 must attend at least one term of school before July 1st, 1914. In view of the fact of the low salaries last year many of the teachers feel that they cannot afford to go away from home to school, the County Board of Education has arranged with Prof. M. F. O'Rear, County Supervisor, to conduct an Institute of eight weeks at the County High School building, beginning February 2nd, 1914. Tuition will be free.

Prof. O'Rear is a teacher of experience and ability, a graduate of the Indiana Central Normal School, and did post graduate work in the Indiana University, lectured on the Science of Teaching in the Oxford Normal, and was Superintendent of the Oxford City Schools for sixteen years, resigning from that position in 1905 on account of ill health. Prof. O'Rear has been connected with education in Montgomery county since returning to Kentucky, having been a member of the County Board from its organization, leaving that body to take up the work of County Supervisor. Each week there will also be one or more of the leading educators of the State to assist in the work. Teachers applying for schools in Montgomery county must enclose certificate from principal of school attended, otherwise application will not be considered.

The Board further ruled that the County Institute be held the first week in July and ALL Rural Schools open the following Monday. ALL teachers attending said Institute full time will receive credit for same.

First and second zones—Five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound; weight limit 50 pounds.

Third zone—Six cents for the first pound and two cents for each additional pound; weight limit 20 pounds.

Fourth zone—Seven cents for the first pound and four cents for each additional pound; weight limit 20 pounds.

Parcels weighing four ounces or less are available at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of distance. Parcels weighing more than four ounces will be available at the rates given above, any fraction of a pound considered a full pound.

This change of rates does not affect the usefulness of the parcel post maps and guides previously furnished to the public.

Patrons of the Postoffice should cut this out and preserve it for future reference.

LEXINGTON LEADER INTO NEW HANDS.

The Lexington Leader, the oldest and most influential Republican daily newspaper in Kentucky after more than twenty-five years under the same ownership and management, having been founded on May 1, 1888, and for so many years ably edited by the late Samuel Judson Roberts, with yesterday's issue passed into new hands. It recently was acquired by a syndicate of capitalists, headed by R. C. Stoll and his brother, Representative John R. Stoll, which assumed active charge.

Harry Giovannoli, who for a number of years past has been connected with the Internal Revenue Department at Washington, is its new editor-in-chief and general manager. James M. Ross will continue as managing editor and the present efficient force will be retained.

The policy of the paper will continue Republican.

DANGER AFTER GRIPPE

Lies in Poor Blood, Cough and Worn-Out Condition.

Grippe, pleurisy, pneumonia are greatly to be feared at this season. To prevent grippe from being followed by either pleurisy or pneumonia, it is important to drive the last traces of it out of the system.

Our advice is to take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, and get your strength and vitality back quickly.

W. W. Lake of Aberdeen, Miss., says: Grippe left me weak, run-down and with a severe cough from which I suffered for a long time. I tried different remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am strong and well again.

Try Vinol with the certainty that if it does not benefit you we will give back your money.

P. S. For Eczema of Scalp try our Sazo Salve. We guarantee it. W. S. Lloyd, Druggist, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

FIGHTING DISEASE.

Uncle Sam's health patrol is catching its breath on New Year's day, in anticipation of the biggest year's work it has ever undertaken. The summary of the last twelve months' work, prepared in the headquarters of the public health service at Washington, contains a record of heroic fights against disease, concerted opposition to the invasion of foreign maladies, and excursions into new fields of medical exploration, which has had no equal in the history of the Federal health organization.

Trained experts working under the directions of Surgeon General Rupert Blue and Assistant Surgeon General Rucker have during the last year covered every nook and corner of the country, routing out unknown diseases, cleaning up infested places, teaching communities and individuals how to guard against disease and protecting the American public against disease immigrants, itinerant "carriers" of disease, unhealthful surroundings, infected rats and polluted drinking water.

From the mountains of Kentucky, where two field hospitals and dispensaries are teaching the mountain people how to combat pellagra, to the water fronts of San Francisco and Seattle, where Federal experts are helping State authorities in their fight to prevent the carrying of plague germs by rats and squirrels, the public health service has pushed its activities into many unusual fields and has co-operated with State and municipal officials to improve sanitary conditions and lessen public danger.

Much of the research work for the health service is done in the hygienic laboratory in Washington. In the search for the means by which infantile paralysis is transmitted the experts there succeeded during the last year in carrying germs from one monkey to another by the bite of a stable fly. But where this succeeded once, it failed on all other attempts, and the public health service is still working on the problem of coping with this disease.

Pollution of rivers and the attendant dangers to communities close to them, is under examination now in the valleys of the Missouri, Ohio and Potomac. A comprehensive investigation of pellagra is being directed from the Marine Hospital at Savannah, Ga., and malaria is being closely studied at the Mobile, Ala., hospital, to determine definitely the means by which it is carried, and the methods best adopted to its suppression.

Practically every phase of sanitation is being studied and taught by the public health service officials, as fast as funds permit. During the last year each expert of the service, no matter on what work he might be detailed, has been acting as traveling inspector of railway trains and vessels, and reporting any violations of the interstate regulations governing drinking cups, pure water, roller towels and the like.

Officials of the health service consider this work and the study of the carrying of the disease from one community to another as among their most important activities directly affecting the health of the people at large. Some of the more arduous tasks of the service however, have been those connected with the local suppression of epidemics and the attempts to stamp out infectious diseases.

Robert Owen, assistant postmaster of Winchester, under former Postmaster John G. White, who has been holding over under the administration of Postmaster Sam King, has tendered his resignation to take effect at once.

The parcel post made $36,000,000 during the first twelve months of its operation, according to unofficial estimates of post department experts.

P. O. DEPARTMENT SELF-SUPPORTING.

The official report of Postmaster General Burleson for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, has just been issued. For the first time in thirty years the Postoffice Department's audited expenditures and receipts for the year show an actual surplus of over $4,500,000. This is the fact that caused Mr. Burleson more real joy than any fact he set forth. After a strong struggle made by both Democrats and Republicans to put the Postoffice Department on a self-sustaining basis, Mr. Burleson reports at the end of the first year of his incumbency that the department is not only paying all expenses, but is making money.

"The dominant policy of the present administration," continues the Postmaster General, "will be to conduct the postal service for the convenience of the public and not for profit." The most interesting paragraphs of Mr. Burleson's report perhaps related to the parcel post system, which has revolutionized the service, and put the express companies almost out of business so far as the handling of small packages is concerned.

On January 1, 1913, the system was inaugurated and in the first six months of its life approximately 300,000,000 parcels were handled.

ON ANOTHER HIKE.

"General" Rosalie Jones, the suffragette leader, veteran of marches to Washington and Albany, marshaled her soldiers to New York City's northernmost boundary early Thursday morning and started on another foot journey to the capital. She plans to make the 175-mile trip, as the road wind, in seven days, or at the rate of twenty-five miles a day. The previous march a year ago, occupied two weeks. On her arrival she will deliver a message to Governor Glynn as she did to former Governor Sulzer, asking his support for the cause.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The rainfall for the year 1913 was greater than the averages for the past 41 years by 6.08 inches, although the year was considered a dry one, much damage being done to grass and crops. The excess over the average was due to the heavy precipitation in January and March. The averages for the past 41 years is 44 inches; for the year 1913 the fall was 50.08.

The Fredonia Bank at Fredonia, Caldwell county, Ky., was robbed of nearly $8,000 by safe blowers.

OLD GREENBACKS FALL TO PIECES.

Occasionally we read of money being found in jars, crocks, tin cans, etc., that was hidden in war times and forgotten by their owner, and more often than not the money is either gold or silver. Of course the finder of hard money is to be counted lucky for the corroding touch of time depreciates its value never a cent; but imagine your feelings, gentle reader, if while raising an old building you should uncover a jar containing stacks of greenbacks, and when exposed to the sunlight the suddenly acquired wealth would fall to pieces, and become an irredeemable mass of worthless ashes?

Such was the unhappy luck of Mr. S. D. Neely last week when having an old barn razed on the farm where his father lived. The jar, which is said to be of the pattern first used in Simpson county, was imbedded under the corner-stone of the old building and had evidently been there for more than seventy-five years, as none of the real old men of the community recall when the old barn was built.

Whether the money was hidden away by a miser who took this means or removing it from circulation, or whether it was the property of some former owner of the land who intended later to remove it, are questions that are purely speculative. But that a large volume of United States bank notes were effectively retired from service and forever lost to the monetary world when buried under the corner-stone of the old Neely barn is one that admits of no dispute.—Franklin Favorite.

1913 BREAKS RECORD FOR BUMPER CROP.

All past records in crops have been exceeded by 1913, according to the annual crop report of the Department of Agriculture. The gross commodity production value of American farms is set aside at $9,750,000. This is nearly $500,000,000 more than the crop value for 1912, itself a record year. Of this huge sum, products of the soil amounted to $6,100,000, while the total farm values of live stock amounted to $3,650,000,000.

OUR BANKS.

We urge every reader of the Advocate to carefully consider the statements of Mt. Sterling's four banking institutions, appearing in this issue. It will be seen that they have in the aggregate more than one million, three hundred thousand dollars on deposit and are all on a sound, conservative, business basis. There are many bigger, but no better banks, in Kentucky and our citizens should be proud of our local financial concerns.

One point in particular to which we desire to call attention, is the fact that collectively their statements show but sixty-eight hundred dollars in overdrafts. But a few years ago, it was not uncommon to see each of them with a ten thousand dollar overdraft.

And right here we want to say that no man, irrespective of his worth, has any excuse, much less, right, to overcheck. The practice is unbusinesslike, causes trouble with the Bank Examiners and should not be tolerated in anybody. If one needs money, he should arrange the matter with his banker, before presuming to check on an account already depleted.

We congratulate the community and those in control of our local banks at the magnificent showing made and commend them to our people as absolutely safe and in every way worthy of their confidence and support.

We know Manager Wilkerson endeavors to maintain the best possible order at the Tabb Opera House, but in spite of all he can do, much disorder takes place at every performance. No man has the right to go to a place of public entertainment and mar the pleasure of others by making unnecessary noises or creating confusion of any sort. If he does not care to listen, he should not go and we appeal to the public and police to assist Mr. Wilkerson in his efforts to make this truly a playhouse for ladies and gentlemen only.

Mr. R. A. Childers of Jeffersonville, has been made Postmaster there, succeeding Mr. J. D. Stephens and has entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Mr. Childers is a well-known Democrat of that neighborhood, an active member of the Democratic County Committee and is regarded by all who know him as a clean, honorable gentleman, in every way worthy of this recognition. We predict he will render entire satisfaction to the patrons of that office.

Now is the time for every one to settle up and settle down.

"OFFICER 666."

That the tastes of the large army of amusement seekers in America are leaning more and more toward plays of a farcical nature, is the belief of nearly every firm of theatrical producers. The public wants to be amused rather than instructed is the way they figure the situation, and the present season would seem to bear out this assertion. Take the hits of the New York stage during the past season. Ninety per cent of them were musical farces, comedy dramas, straight farces, or musical plays, all constructed with the one idea—to create laughter. "If you have a play that has good comedy lines and situations," they say to be would-be authors, "let us read it, if it contains bright lines—if it has speed and action—if it is clean. In short, if it has a punch in it we will produce it for you."

In "Officer 666," which will be presented here at the Tabb Opera House January 13, Lexington January 15, is found a farce that contains all these desirable attributes. It was written by Augustin MacHugh, an author heretofore unknown to fame as a playwright. That, however, need not count against Mr. MacHugh. A man need not be the author of a long string of hits to be able to produce one more. It's the first time that counts. After that he may add to his string as fast as he is able to turn them out. Get them produced too, if he first writes ONE SUCCESS.

"Officer 666" is an odd title. The title of the play constitutes fifty per cent of its attractiveness. One of the first problems that George M. Cohan seeks to solve when he has a play idea is an attractive title, and few men in this branch of human endeavor have been more successful in their selection than this famous young author.

THE BIRD ON THE FENCE.

A TURKEY sat on a barnyard fence,
Ho, for the glad Thanksgiving!
And he said to himself, "Ain't this immense!"
Ho, for the glad Thanksgiving!

"Not a blessed thing to do all day
But eat and gobble and strut and be gay—
It would seem that things are coming my way."
Ho, for the glad Thanksgiving!

The turkey grew and grew and grew,
Ho, for the glad Thanksgiving!
Every day he ate a bushel or two,
Ho, for the glad Thanksgiving!
The farmer saw and was satisfied,
And his chest bulged out with a worldly pride,
For his bird was the boss of the country—
Ho, for the glad Thanksgiving!

'Twas the day before the glorious feast,
Ho, for the glad Thanksgiving!
The turk looked west and the turk looked east,
Ho, for the glad Thanksgiving!
Then he spread his wings and he journeyed hence,
For it chanced that he was a bird of sense—
One turk in the oven beats two on the fence—
Alas, for the sad Thanksgiving!

HOME.

HOME, to the hills and the rough, running water;
Home, to the plain folk and cold winds again.
Oh, I am only a gray farm's still daughter,
Spite of my wandering passion and pain!

HOME, from the city that snares and enthralls me—
Home, from the bold light and bold, weary crowd.
Oh, it's the blown snow and bare field that call me;
White star and shy dawn and wild, lonely cloud!

HOME, to the gray house the pine trees guard, sighing;
Home, to the low door that laughs to my touch.
How should I know till my wings failed me, flying,
Home nest and heart nest, I loved you so much?

—Fannie Stearns Davis.

COME, O SLEEP!

HEAR thou, and come, O sleep,
capricious one!
Come as the waves, uncreeping
From out the quiet bosom of the sea.
With cool caress to spread themselves upon
The dry sun weary margin of the land
Of consciousness. Then let thine outflow sweep
All markings from the sand,
Leaving a fair smooth record of thy stay,
Fit for the unknown footprints of the coming day.

II.
Hear thou, and come, O sleep, thou wayward one!
Come as the snowfall, softly fluttering down
To cover all that barren plain and brown,
My mind, with magic oblivion.
The rustling of my tired thoughts shall cease
As tossed leaves held fast and quieted
Beneath thy still white peace.
So shall thy gentle sway refreshment bring
And my awaking know the gladness of the spring.

—Cornelia W. Bull.

THE REUNION.

ONE wanders east and another west—
They are Sundered all the year;
Each pursuing his chosen quest,
Each with work to his liking best,
'Till the winter time draws near.
BUT the ties of kindred bind them fast,
And one in their hearts are they;
For yet, wherever their lots be cast,
They meet in the dear old home at
On each Thanksgiving day.
—Eugene C. Dolson.

THANKSGIVING.

A YEAR of plenty. Flocks have multiplied.
Earth's kindly fruits the harvest moon bestows.
And, swept from vassal field on every side,
The garnered corn like prisoned sun-glow,
Such be thy gifts, O Lord.

PLENTY and peace and honor—these but part
That thou dost lavish from thy store divine;
Give us yet more—eyes and a contrite heart
To see how poor our gifts compared with thine.
Love be thy gift, O man!

—Selected.

LOVE'S ONLY AIM.

I THOUGHT that the highway of love was pleasant,
Merry with music and very fair,
A-shimmer with sunbeams and soft with the perfume of roses rare.
I know that the highway of love is rocky,
Scattered with rose petals bruised and torn.
A-shimmer with tears that our knowledge brings up,
Sad with the phantoms of dreams forlorn.
And yet were I back where our love awakened,
Back to the days when my dreams were sweet,
And you were to open your arms in pleading,
Ask me to choose where the crossroads meet,
With peace I would travel that hard way over,
Knowing the road was my paradise.
What matter the pain or the toil and trouble?
Life holds its meaning within your eyes
—Caroline Reynolds.

IN QUIET WAYS.

NATURE alone in quiet ways
Her work of power performs,
Or when she sends the perfect days,
Or when she sends the storms.
Her gentle mood is still the same—
To do and not to boast,
Broad winged in thunder and in flame
Or calm from coast to coast.
—Baltimore Sun.

CANNIBALS DEVOUR 16 PERSONS.

Cannibals in Neumecklenburg, an island in the Bismark archipelago, captured and massacred Dr. Deiniger and another German scientist, together with 14 natives who accompanied them. The camp of the scientists was attacked and the 16 men captured. All were marched to the village occupied by the cannibals, and were murdered one by one. Before the slaughter the prisoners were tortured, and fires were built under huge pots, allowing the prisoners to see what was in store for them.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

TO THE "GOOD FELLOWS."

Here's a toast to the jolly good fellow,
For all of his friends will swear,
That his one delight is to make you glad
And to lighten your burden of care.

His smile is a tonic of gladness;
His hand clasp is warm and sincere:
His eye twinkles merry in laughter,
Sometimes, perhaps, through a tear.

But who of us know of the man
Who is hidden behind the mask
You cannot guess his heartache,
You have not the courage to ask.

When did you lighten his burden?
How oft did you try to say
An homage to this good fellow,
And part of your debt to pay?

O, yes, "He's a jolly good fellow,"
He passes through life with smile,
He helps every one around him,
Your sadness he will beguile.

But sometimes his heart is heavy
When others take all and give naught,
So sometimes help that good fellow
For the smile which his laughter brought.

The Christmas dance of the Sterling Dancing Club given at Trimble Hall Tuesday, December 30th, was one of the nicest dances given in this city for several months. Quite a large crowd attended. The Grand March was led by Mr. William Enoch, the new President of the club, and Miss Matt Garrett, of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Calk entertained a number of their friends at their hospitable country home on Tuesday evening of last week at a delicious and much enjoyed six o'clock dinner. Those present were Messrs. Owens Lane, J. Rice Crooks, R. B. Crooks, H. L. Crooks, Douglas Embury, R. M. Bridgforth, G. C. Everett, Jr., and W. F. Crooks.

Miss Minnie Graves, of Mt. Sterling was the guest of honor at a three course dinner given on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grubbs. The table was beautiful in cut flowers and other Christmas decorations. During the evening Miss Graves and Miss Mary Peeples, both accomplished musicians, delighted all with many choice piano selections. The guests were Misses Beulah and Bertie Thompson, Misses Pauline and Mary Peeples, Messrs. Will Curry, Charlie Venable, Paul Demaree and Rev's R. T. Brown and Walter Cropper.—Winchester Democrat.

Miss Elizabeth Hart gave a six o'clock dinner and a watch party at her home on North Maysville street Wednesday, December 31, in honor of her guest, Miss Rose Veatch, of Louisville. The appointments were red and green and the centerpiece consisted of a large basket of fruit, the handle of which was tied with a large, red butterfly bow of tulle, pointsettias were banked around the base of the basket.

The table was lighted with candlesticks with red tapers. The dinner consisted of four courses.

Among the guests were: Misses Lillian Rose Veatch, of Louisville; Marion Dudley White, Mary Ragan, Gladys Pieratt, Edna Gorham, of Georgetown; Elizabeth Hart; Messrs. William Woodford, Garrett Chenault, Marvin Gaid, Webb Blevins, Rex Hall, Judd Anderson.

Mrs. E. R. Little delightfully entertained the younger set on Wednesday evening from five until nine, with a Christmas party for her charming daughter, Miss Elizabeth. The house was tastefully decorated, the Christmas colors being carried out through the parlors and hall, also in the dining room where a beautifully appointed course luncheon was served. The center of the table held a miniature Christmas tree banked with artificial snow and held gifts for each guest. During the evening appropriate contests, games and dancing were enjoyed. Those present were: Misses Laura Hart, Jenmol Gatewood, Anna B. Pinney, Martha Tharp, Frances White, Elizabeth Clay Highland, Carolyn Bowen, Mary Vasant Robertson, Martha M. Robinson; Messrs. Richard Eubank, Thos. Grubbs, Prewitt Morris Ramsey, William Tipton, William Daniels, Ashby Blevins, Jack Owens, and Messrs. Evans and Scrivner, of Winchester.

RIDDELL COMMISSIONED AS CIRCUIT JUDGE.

The contest over the election of a Judge in the Twenty-third district, composed of Breathitt, Lee, Estill and Wolfe counties, has been dropped and Governor McCreary issued to Judge Hugh Riddell, of Irvine, his commission as Circuit Judge for the unexpired term of the late Judge D. B. Redwine.

J. P. Adams, of Lee county, was the Republican candidate. Alleging that the election officers in certain precincts of Breathitt and Estill counties had failed to certify the returns and that the County Boards of Election Commissioners were about to count the votes, omitting these precincts, Judge Riddell, who had been appointed by Governor McCreary upon the death of Judge Redwine, and afterward became the Democratic candidate, secured a mandatory injunction requiring that the votes from these precincts be certified and counted. The Court of Appeals refused to dissolve the injunction. The votes were then counted, giving Judge Riddell a majority of 77 in the district. Mr. Adams did not contest the election.

BRUSHES.

Special for this week, regular 15 and 25 cent horse and scrub Brushes only 7 cents each.

THE FAIR.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROOM ON LOCUST ST.

The body of Charles Long, who was found dead in his room last Thursday was shipped to Weyers Cave, West Va. Monday. Long had been here for several years and was for a time engaged in the livery business, selling out and handling potatoes in large lots. He had been very successful and is believed to have had considerable money as $750 was found in his pockets by the undertakers.

The man's real name was Noah Rodeffer and his home was Weyers Cave, W. Va., and it is not known why he assumed the name of Long. Two of the dead man's brothers came to this city and had his body shipped to the above place.
